ABOUT OUR COMPANY

PrismPoint Project Advisement is a woman-owned construction project management and safety consulting firm with more than 40 years of combined leadership experience supporting healthcare systems, government agencies, and institutional organizations delivering complex capital projects.

We strengthen our clients' internal capacity by managing project delivery, coordinating architects and engineers, and providing medical facility leadership safety training that ensures environments remain safe and compliant for employees, patients, and the communities they serve.

Through integrated services—including construction oversight, cost transparency, compliance review, and access to architectural and engineering resources—PrismPoint delivers projects with accountability, cost transparency, and operational integrity.
